

Transforming Information into Insight

Integrated Business Systems is pleased to reveal our newest application, Business Intelligence (BI). BI is aimed at providing an immediate decision-making capability for the various operational tiers of clubs and club management companies. Clubs can quickly, effectively, and economically get access to, analyze, report on, and share information needed to achieve corporate goals and measure performance. The complete and fully integrated set of BI technologies can help reduce the complexity of organizing and distributing information and lead to competitive advantages, overall better decisions and an improved bottom line. The IBS BI suite allows you to get up-to-date information, whether it's on the desktop or any web-enabled device.

Manage Your Data Warehouse

IBS BI provides an efficient way for users to integrate the data from various sources (such as your accounting packages, general ledgers, payroll and time keeping software, IBS transactional data and Customer Relationship Management software) into one location. This data warehousing provides instant historical, current and predictive views of business operations. Store, access, and integrate information from a scalable and enterprise-ready Microsoft SQL server data warehouse platform.

Deliver Key Strategic Information with Integrated Reporting and Analytics

Raw data from transaction systems, enterprise locations and virtually any data source transforms into information and insight. Comprehensive dashboard and scoreboard solutions collect information into a single data view to provide awareness and align strategic objectives. Take advantage of reports, charts, graphs and analysis tools that forecast the future. Go beyond simply monitoring 'what' is happening in the business to understanding 'why.'

Drive Pervasive Business Performance

IBS BI includes management tools and processes designed to optimize performance at all organizational levels and make the best use of their resources. Frameworks focus on planning, monitoring and analyzing business methodologies, metrics, processes, and systems to drive business performance.

When used in conjunction with the IBS product suite, BI provides you with management tools that eliminate time, costs, and additional programming needs that are associated with creating, integrating, and customizing BI solutions. The IBS Consulting team is available to train clients on BI and provide solutions to any questions you may have. Designed to support all environments and the spectrum of requirements in even the largest clubs, IBS BI offers the right tools at a good value to help you deliver BI to your entire organization.
